

University of Rhode Island Sailing Team: High School Sailing Clinic

The University of Rhode Island Sailing Team is hosting a local sailing clinic for youth sailors in high school. Students will gain a variety of skills in collegiate fleet and team racing. The clinic will be from Saturday August 28th to Sunday August 29th from 9am to 3pm. The fee for attending the clinic is $350 per student.

Meet the Coaches David "Moose" McClintock sailed in multiple venues worldwide, bringing home 9 world championships and multiple North American, European and National championships. Most notable in his sailing career is his involvement in match racing, winning 5 Congressional Cup championships and multiple WMRC titles. His match racing career culminated in 2nd place finishes in both the 1995 America's Cup defender trials and the 2000 Louis Vuitton Challenger finals.
